POSTOFFICE BRANCH HERE INCREASES 100 PER CENT

Remarkable Record Indicates Growth of Glendale In Past Twelve Months

The annual report of the postoffice activities, which has just been compiled by Superintendens George Halleck and his aides, shows that for the fiscal year ending June 30, postal receipts have amounted to practically double those of the preceding twelve months.

This astounding and seemingly impossible growth of 100 per cent is by far the largest in the history of Glendale, and is thought by many postal authorities to be a national record for cities of any size.

And it hasn't stopped growing yet—so far this month an average of 100 changes of addresses have been registered at the local office daily, of which two are those of incoming residents to one leaving the city. During the last year a monthly average of 2400 changes of addresses were made, with the same 2 to 1 proportion predominating.

Here Are Figures

Following are the postal statistics of the past fiscal year, as compared with those of last year:

Total receipts for year ending June 30, 1921	$81,544.27
For year ending June June 30, 1920	41,658.65
Increase (per cent)	95.7
Money orders issued for year ending June 30, 1921	14,063
For year ending June 30, 1920	9,624
Letters registered for year ending June 30, 1921	7,420

Louis S. Badour Is In Receipt of Letter Threatening His Life

One of the strangest cases reported in the history of the local police department was the one filed yesterday by Louis S. Badour of 430 West Doran.

Badour, who is an elderly man and crippled, stated that he is in receipt of an anonymous letter threatening his life.

Immediately after receiving the call, Officer Brewster rushed to the Badour residence to investigate the affair. It was then found that the mysterious epistle was written in the Arabic language, and as Sergeant Brewster is not a native of that historic Asiatic country of Arabia, the man's version of the contents of the document was taken.

Now the local officers are in quest of an interpreter of the language of the ancient far eastern monarchy.

The matter was taken up with local and Los Angeles postal authorities, who are making an attempt to trace the missive back to its sender.

Alex McDougall Guest of Friends In Venice

Alex McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. McDougall of 128 West Elk avenue, has made several trips to Venice recently to visit with friends. Wednesday he was the guest of Robert Rennie, former publisher of the Venice Vanguard, and last week visited in the Ralph De Palma home on Superior avenue.

Mrs. T. G. McDougall Entertains Her Sister

Mrs. Thomas G. McDougall of 128 West Elk avenue is entertaining her sister, Mrs. H. F. Benjamin and her two children. The visitors live in Los Angeles but plan to spend the next two weeks in Glendale resting and enjoying family picnics and trips to the beach.

Today's World News In Brief

(By United Press to Glendale Evening News)

GOVERNORS OF 16 STATES INDORSE HARDING'S PLAN

NEW YORK, July 15.—Governors of sixteen states representing more than twenty million persons today indorsed President Harding's disarmament conference. In messages to the United Press these executives declared for armament limitation on the following grounds: Prevention of wars. Relief from taxation burdens. Improvement of the general world economic situation. Governor Percival D. Baxter of Maine, summed up the general attitude of his colleagues when he declared that "the nations of the world must disarm or go into moral and financial bankruptcy." To this, Governor D. W. Davis of Idaho added that "we cannot talk of achieving peace with knives in our hands."

OFFICIALS BELIEVE JAPAN IS 'PLAYING FOR TIME'

WASHINGTON, July 15.—"Playing for time" was the explanation put forward in an authoritative quarter today for the vagueness of Japan's reply to the American proposal for a conference to discuss disarmament and far eastern affairs. All other nations accepted flatly but portions of Japan's answer were confusing. Other explanations were that Japan consented to discuss disarmament but omitted reference to the proposed far eastern discussion because of international politics and that by keeping silent on the far eastern angle of the proposed parleys Japan has tacitly consented to participate in it. The theory that the Japanese are playing for time is based on the belief that Japanese statesmen are deliberately weighing whether they will lose most by coming in or staying out of the proposed conferences.

STOCK MARKET IS REACTIONARY IN EARLY TRADING

NEW YORK, July 15.—The stock market, particularly steels and oils, was reactionary in the early trading today. Mexican Petroleum opened off 5/8 at 103, 5½ points under yesterday's high. Atlantic Gulf reacted a point in the first ten minutes. Crucible ex-dividend of $1, was off 1¼ at 51. Bethlehem B got below 46. Rails were lower and equipments lower. Other opening prices included: Studebaker 79¾, off ¼; U. S. Steel 73, unchanged; Chandler 48¾, unchanged; Texas Company 33½, off ⅛; Baldwin 73¾, off ⅜; General Electric 123, up ½; Famous Players 48½, off ⅝; Asphalt 49¼, unchanged; Western Union 81, off ⅛; Southern Pacific 75½, up ¼; Republic Steel 45½, off ½; Athison 82⅝, up ⅛; American Tobacco 120¼, unchanged; Northern Pacific 71¾, off ⅝.

SECOND SESSION OF PEACE CONFERENCE IS OPENED

LONDON, July 15.—Ulster was to be represented in the Irish peace negotiations for the first time this afternoon. The fact that no further conferences were arranged with De Valera at this time was accepted as meaning that progress of negotiations depends upon the meeting with Craig. Sir James Craig, premier of the new Ulster parliament, arrived in Downing street for his conference with Lloyd George at 3 p. m. Sinn Fein officials following today's conference expressed the greatest optimism regarding the negotiations. The second session of the Irish peace negotiations began shortly after 11 o'clock today. Eamon De Valera and Premier Lloyd George, resuming their conference at 10 Downing street, were expected to make additional progress in the preliminary steps toward permanent settlement of the Irish question. The long duration of yesterday's initial conference was generally considered the most hopeful sign in connection with the negotiations.

GREAT CROWDS CHEER DISPLAY OF 1289 IN LOS ANGELES

ELECTRICAL PARADE PROVIDES THRILLS TO HUGE CROWD

New Record In Displays Is Established; Every Float Is 'Thing of Beauty'

Outside of those confined in the hospitals and the city jails, it is a safe bet that there wasn't a man, woman or child in Los Angeles from babies in arms to ninety-year-old veterans, who did not attend the big electrical display parade, given last night for the entertainment of the visiting Elks. Hours before the starting time it was practically impossible to find a passage on the closely-packed sidewalks along the line of march.

From storefront to gutters, the walks were one solid mass of surging humanity. Every window held its quota of spectators, while more adventuresome spirits, including many members of the fair sex, were perched on the surrounding roofs. And well were they rewarded for their attendance, for never in the annals of parades was such a pageant as last night's staged. And probably never in the future will another like it be staged. For it was only by a chain of fortunate circumstances that such an elaborate display was possible.

It Was Movie Parade

In no other city outside of Los Angeles could the elaborate electrical equipment necessary, and which is specially constructed for the many picture producers located here, be secured.

In fact, it was practically a movie parade, supplemented by music from the ranks of the numerous Elk bands. There was one exception, however. The Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, which heretofore has refrained from taking part in any of the Elk parades owing to its position as host to the convention, held the place of honor in last night's event.

Dressed entirely in white with purple hat bands, each man carrying a parasol of alternate sections of purple and white, electrically lighted, they were easily the popular idols of last night's spectators.

And then the floats. The picture people and local Elks had both gone

Mrs. James B. Shea Is Hostess at Party

Mrs. James B. Shea of 1608 South Brand boulevard entertained a number of young ladies Wednesday night in honor of her sister-in-law, Miss Lila Shea, who leaves next week for Deer Lodge, Mont. The house was beautifully decorated in red and white, this pretty and appropriate combination being carried out on the dainty place cards.

The evening was spent in music, games and dancing, after which a delightful course of refreshments was served by the hostess. Those who were present at the happy affair were Mesdames Grace Simon, J. T. Beach, Wayne Smith, Noble Ripley, Charles Carroll and James Shea, Misses Lila Shea, Alice Gray Beach, Cecila Lyon, Ernestine Lyon, Lila Webster, Lila White and Alberta Heisler.

Miss Shea, who is well known in Glendale's younger social set, leaves this city next Tuesday for Montana, where she will spend six months with her sister, Mrs. Blanche Starr.

BABY BOY ARRIVES

FLORAL PAGEANT IS FITTING END TO ELKS' MEETING

Glendale's Entry Is Highly Praised; 1200 Musicians Lead Big Procession

A fitting conclusion to the week of celebration in honor of the visiting Elks was today's big double parade, composed of a massed band formation and floral pageant.

Swinging down Broadway, Los Angeles, at 10 a. m., the largest number of musicians ever gathered together at a fraternal gathering demonstrated to the entranced listeners the power of organized music. Nearly 1200 individaul musicians comprising 28 separate bands were entered in this unprecedented review. The lead was taken by the Municipal band, closely followed by the famous 99 organization and the Philadelphia band, the latter being the winner of the competitive musical program held at Exposition park last Wednesday.

Beautifully Descriptive

Immediately following came the floral pageant, eloquently descriptive of the wondrous beauties of southern California. With a mounted squad of picked officers and Grand Marshal Ray Vercler, in the lead, Mayor Cryer and other city and county officials preceded the Chamber of Commerce float.

Today's floral processional was in the nature of a contest, prizes being awarded in five out of the seven divisions. In addition to divisional

ASKS AMPLIFICATION

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Japan has asked the United States for an amplification of the proposed discussion of Pacific problems in the forthcoming disarmament conference in Washington, it was learned authoritatively today.

NEBRASKANS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cullens of Norfolk, Nebraska, were visitors in Glendale recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fisher, 501 West Colorado boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Cullins made the trip by automobile and are at present the guests of friends in La Crescenta. They plan to make their future home in Glendale.

UNIQUE AND ATTRACTIVE DESIGN IS SYMBOLIC OF ORDER OF ELKS

Many Thousands Of Flowers Used To Decorate Display; Eight Little Girls Charming Feature

Glendale Lodge, No. 1289, First Prize!

Such was the announcement of the judges selected to place the awards in today's great floral pageant of the Elks in Los Angeles. The entry of the Oregon Elks was awarded second place while third prize was taken by Pasadena.

Inasmuch as the prizes were awarded before the start of the parade, Glendale's float, proudly bearing the medal of award, wended its way through the cheering crowds, for the third time in succession a first-prize winner in competitive floral pageants.

For the past two years Glendale has carried off this much coveted honor at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. All three of the prize winners have been designed by L. W. Chobe of this city, who has set a record of unique and gorgeous float construction that will be hard to equal.

Glendale's prize winner was an allegorical description of the cardinal principles of Elkdom.

Oregon's entry, which took second place, was a beautiful floral shell, with motion picture stars and Oregon's queen reclining in the center.

Pasadena took third honors with a three-unit steam train.

Amidst the cheers of countless thousands that thronged the line of march Glendale's mammoth float, led by seven of the city's daintiest little girls ,was the cynosure of all who witnessed today's beautiful floral pageant, the last of the spectacles by the Elks during their convention in Los Angeles. Immediately preceding the float was the band from Lodge 1289 that has been winning such favorable comment during the past week, all dolled up especially for the occasion with floral sashes of purple asters adding a striking bit of color to the immaculate white uniforms.

With no apparent motive power, the float, resplendent emblem of Elkdom, was truly illustrative of the theme portrayed. It was a finished work of art, complete in every detail, from the beautiful parasols of "protection," skilfully woven of maidenhair fern and snow-white roses, to the large Elks' emblem at the rear. Unlike many of the floats, as much attention was given to decorating the rear end as to the front.

The large American flag, with its gracefully draped lines, was the recipient of enthusiastic expressions of admiration all along the line. Thousands of red and white carnations formed the waiving lines of the stripes, while the stars were made of white carnations against a background of asters.

Casts Benevolent Light

"Glendale, 1289, B. P. O. E.," was worked in along the sides with white carnations, against a background of purple asters and large tree ferns. Standing straight and towering above all, was the flag pole of white coryopsis, casting its benevolent light upon the group.

Glendale's entry in today's pageant far surpassed, many declared, either of the two floats designed by L. W. Chobe, and which brought home the first prize in both the 1920 and 1919 Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

Artistic symbolism. Such was the thought that permeated the mind of L. W. Chobe, while groping for an idea around which to construct Glendale's offering for the mammoth floral parade of today.

Symbolical not only of those cardinal principles around which the magnificent institution of Elkdom has been built, but also of those other great principles of life which have stood the test of ages, and which are the foundations of American society.

With this great idea as a stepping stone came the long and arduous

BUSINESS DISTRICT SEWERAGE PLANS ARE ADOPTED

Cost to Be About $36,000 and 75 Per Cent Permanent, Authorities Say

Plans for a sewage disposal system in the business district of Glendale were favorably received at the meeting of the city council last night and, on motion of Councilman C. E. Kimlin, seconded by Councilman S. A. Davis, instructions were given Hartley Shaw, city attorney, to prepare a resolution under the Vrooman Act in order that the proposed improvement may be carried out.

Details of the proposed sewage disposal system have been published from time to time in The Evening News. Briefly, the cost will be met by a district assessment and, it is estimated, the share of each fifty foot frontage will be about $280. The total cost will be, it is estimated, about $36,000.

It was explained at the meeting of the council last night that about seventy-five per cent of the improvement will be permanent. In other words, when the city as a whole decides to install a sewage system, aboat seventy-five per cent of the cost of the work done in the business district will not be included in the bond issue that will result.

A majority of the property owners in the proposed assessment district, already outlined in The Evening News, are declared to be in favor of the improvement and at the council meeting last night James H. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, filed a petition in which a number of property owners affected asked that the work be ordered.

Avoid Another Cemetery

"In presenting this petition," said Secretary Rhoades to the council, "it is admitted that there will be, perhaps, some protest to the plan of work. But I am sure that it is better to face a protest now than an extra graveyard in the future. Lack of a sewage system is serious; it is holding back Glendale's growth. There is grave danger of an epidemic if the problem is not immediately met. Many people frequent the business section of the city and the importance of proper sewage disposal is apparent. I urge this council to take action."

Action Is Unanimous

"The matter is of great importance to Glendale," declared Councilman Kimlin. "The health of this community is involved. The lack of proper sewage disposal means that the people, coming from all over the city to the city business, may be the method of carrying disease to dif-

Miss Marcella Miller to Wed Donald McLeod

Such delicious pastry—and what a delightful secret.

That is the guest's comment on the surprise announcement party given in honor of her daughter, Miss Miller of 114 West Broadway yesterday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Miss Marcella Miller whose betrothal to Donald McLeod of this city was revealed in the cakes served at a tea given in Maison Marcell's cafe in Los Angeles following a matinee theatre party at the Morosco. There were twelve guests including Miss Martha Ray of 206 North Louise street and Mrs. Lloyd Bradley of 338 West Broadway.

At the Morosco "Three Faces East" was the entertainment while at Marcell's the delectables served at a beautifully flower-bedecked table made the afternoon a pleasing one.

Miss Miller has been a student in the southern branch of the University of California. Mr. McLeod is connected with the Bartlett & French Cleveland and Chandler motorcar agency here. Both are popular members of Glendale's younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Eckles Locate In New Home

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Eckles, formerly of North Louise street, are now settled in their new bungalow at 1221 North Winchester avenue. They have as their house guests Mrs. Eckles' three sisters from St. Louis.

Many pleasant affairs are planned for the entertainment of the ladies and the charming visitors are so impressed with Glendale that they have invested in property here.

HOW WILL IT "STAND UP" Wear and tear, weather conditions, etc.? That's the question which naturally enters when considering the purchase of one of the more recently built houses. The 5-room modern bungalow on West Park we watched when being built by eastern carpenters for themselves, and it is unquestionably the best which money and material could put up. Garage with wash trays, hot and cold water piped thereto. Lot 50x150, fenced, 5 fruit trees. Very attractive place, only $1000 will handle. Monthly payments to suit. Price $5500.

NEBULA NICKNAMES

Many of the glowing gas clouds in the heavens, known as nebula, present shapes that have given rise to nicknames, used by astronomers as alternatives of the more formal catalogue numbers of these objects. Among these are the Keyhole nebula, the Crab nebula, the Pinwheel nebula, the Dumbell nebula, the Owl nebula, the Horseshoe nebula, the Swan nebula, the Whirlpool nebula, the Omega nebula and the North American nebula. The outline of the latter bears a rather striking resemblance to that of the North American continent.

Mr. Putman, who is a traveling man, has visited the Varleys many times when making trips in the vicinity of Nehan and it was a great pleasure to Mrs. Putman to be able to return the compliment.

A. L. Baird is an extremely ardent fisher and hunter when not otherwise engaged in breaking records selling Glendale real estate. At present he is spending all of his spare time oiling up his guns and repairing his tackle in anticipation of a hunting trip that he soon expects to take to the high Sierras. Baird and his party will be gone for about five weeks, going into the remote part of Siskiyou and Lassen counties.

POSTOFFICE BRANCH HERE INCREASES 100 PER CENT

For year ending June 30, 1920	4,042
Change of address orders filed in year ending June 30, 1921	22,984
For year ending June 30, 1920	20,240
Letters with no street address marked up for delivery of carriers, for year ending June 30, 1921	137,700
For year ending June 30, 1920	95,670

Besides the rapidly increasing number of incoming permanent residents the transient "trade" is constantly growing, as is evidenced by the report of the number of general delivery callers. Whereas last year there were seventy daily "any mail for ———?" inquiries it is estimated there are now 130.

Has Thirty-one Employees

The Glendale branch postoffice, which is now among the largest of the class in the county, boasts of a payroll of thirty-one employees, or an increase of eight over last year's mark.

Five new carriers have been added bringing the total up to twenty-one. Each of thees deliverymen has a separate route, which is traversed twice every day of the week except Sunday. Also there are three rural carriers who cover their territories daily.

The rural districts are those lying to the north and east of the city, in the vicinity of Montrose, La Crescenta, La Canada and Sunland.

Six Clerks Kept Busy

Six clerks are kept busy with the inside work of the office, the volume of which has increased so rapidly within the past few months that it has been necessary to install a number of modern office facilitative devices. These include one of the latest electric canceling machines, which will stamp 600 letters per minute, typewriters, adding machines and various other labor-scaving machines.

In giving the report Superintendent Halleck remarked that there is an average of 600 daily incoming letters with insufficient addresses. The public is urgently requested to instruct their correspondents of the future to be more explicit in addressing their letters just "Glendale, California." This would eliminate a large amount of unnecessary delay.

Local mail service is declared to be as good as any of the Los Angeles suburbs; mail is received four times every day and is sent out three times.

The United States Postal commission, which was recently sent out from Washington by Postmaster-General Hays to investigate offices throughout southern California, made the statement that it was pleased with the manner in which the Glendale branch office was being conducted.

Steps are now being taken by the Chamber of Commerce to secure an independent postoffice for Glendale and a petition to that effect was recently taken to Washington by Attorney W. E. Evans of this city. Dr. Henry Harrower of this city, in the east on business, also pressed the matter at Washington, it being claimed that Glendale's growth warrants it being granted an independent office.

The contesting divisions appeared in the line of march in the following order:

Local business floats, out-of-town floats from nearby cities, fraternal organizations with women's auxiliaries, movie division under direction of Tom Mix, and decorated motor car division.

It was in the out-of-town division that the keenest rivalry developed, a majority of the nearby cities having placed entries in the parade. Enthusiastic and partisan admirers from the various cities cheered the appearance of their favorite floats.

From start to finish the gorgeous entry of Glendale was a center of attraction, not only to the admirers from its home town, but also to many strangers from far-off points.

THOUSANDS ACCLAIM GLENDALE'S FLOAT IN BIG PARADE

Design Is Both Unique and Attractive; Big Quantity of Flowers In Use task of construction, which resulted in today's magnificently beautiful tribute to those exalted ideals for which the Elks are known the world over.

Colors in Harmony

When first seen the float gives only an impression of graceful, artistic design and harmonious blending of color. Nearly thirty feet long and fifteen feet high, not a single jarring or discordant note can be found. Every part so completely mingles with its neighbor that nothing could be left out without marring the effect.

It is only after a second observation is made that one begins to note the thought that is imbedded in this floral conception.

First of all come the four cardinal principles of the B. P. O. E., Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love and Fidelity. The first three are represented by the Elks' altar, constructed on the floral flag, while the last named is represented by the Star of Fidelity shining above.

U. S. Colors Displayed

As the foundation of all those principles for which the Elks stand is the American floral flag, suspended from a pole, which may be seen from all sides. As a background, upon which part of the flag gracefully reposes is a bed of purple asters.

That the flag may ever float over a peace-united nation is symbolized by eight of Glendale's most beautiful little girls, dressed in white.

Guided by Silk Reins

Barbara A. Gilman of 1508 South Central avenue as the leader, sitting on a purple robe, under the antlers of protection, guides the other seven by reins of purple and white silk streamers.

The other seven, Katherine Spear, 414 Palmer avenue; Katherine Ferry, 614 East Acacia Ave.; Carol May Evans, 1214 South Mariposa street; Jean Hinchcliffe, 440 Milford avenue; Rhodora McKee, 130 West Chestnut street; Marie Acton, 323 Arden avenue, and Ruth Muhleman, Pierce avenue, Pacoima, bearing a white dove of peace as leaders to the float.

Showing that while the Elks are desirous that their country shall always live in peace with the rest of the world, they are always willing to protect the flag of freedom, is a guard of four uniformed men, accompanying the float.

Indicative of the fact that the Elks is an American organization, standing squarely behind the patriotic principles of our country, is a life-size elk, protruding from under the Stars and Stripes, and surrounded by the pines and other trees of its native haunts.

Points to 11 O'clock

At the rear stands the floral design of the Elks' emblem; first the clock, with the hands pointing to the hour of 11 o'clock, that significant time in the rituals of Elkdom, with the elks' head at the base and the Star of Fidelity floating gracefully above.

The following facts give an idea of the magnitude of the display:

The float is twenty-eight feet long, eleven feet wide, and fourteen and one-half feet high. It is drawn on a Moreland truck chassis. The rear twelve feet is suspended in the air by bridge construction. Attention is drawn to the fact that there is no visible motive power or driver, thereby deserving the true name of "float."

The flag is thirty feet long by ten feet wide, made of 25,000 red and white carnations. In the field are 2000 purple asters. The gold ball on the end of the flagpole is made of yellow coreopsis, as are also the Star and the Bible. Forty thousand blossoms are used to decorate the float; purple asters are used for altar, robe, clock; other flowers, ferns, smilax, huckleberry, brake, etc., are used for apron and backgrounds.

Credit Due These

The float was designed, built and decorated by L. W. Chobe, a member of the local lodge, assisted by Ed Evans, who Chobe describes as his right-hand man; Fred Spear, Sam Rich, Harry Flower and Joe Bright, all local Elks. In addition about 200 of the local members and their wives worked until long past midnight last night putting on the finishing touches to the mammoth float.

To Joe Bright does Chobe give particular praise. Although over 82 years of age, Bright has been on the job night after night, and held his end up with his fellow workers many years his junior.

Mrs. L. W. Chobe has been of invaluable assistance to her husband in helping him in the designing of Glendale's offering. Miss Helen Miller of Glendale, who has an enviable reputation as an artist, designed the costumes and assisted in obtaining many of the color effects.

A unique feature of the float was a rest room for the little girls where they could relax during the intervals which always occur in a parade of the magnitude of today's. In charge of this was Miss Grace Chobe, daughter of the designer, and a trained nurse. Ice-cold drinks and luncheon were provided. The rest room was cunningly concealed beneath the floral altar. A concealed speaking tube connected the man at the steering wheel with the driver of the horse, also concealed beneath the huge altar.

L. W. Chobe, who designed today's float, is a man of great experience in this work. Not only has he designed floats for the Glendale lodge, but has done this work in the east previous to his moving to Glendale. Last fall a float designed by Chobe won first prize in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena. He also designed the prize-winning float in the Pasadena parade two years ago.

FAVOR LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS BY AMERICA

Munition Makers Say They Indorse Harding's Plan for World Powers

By HAROLD D. JACOBS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 15.—American munitions makers today placed themselves on record in favor of limitation of armaments.

Men whose business interests would receive huge profits through war, indorsed President Harding's proposed disarmament conference, both from a humanitarian and economic standpoint.

Chief among those who declared for armament limitation in statements to the United Press was Irenee Dupont, president of E. I. Dupont De Nemours company, largest powder manufacturers in the world.

Dupont revealed that his concern had scrapped and dismantled 97 per cent of the plants which provided the United States and the allies with powder during the world war.

Opposed to Armaments

Others who took a stand against burdensome armaments were:

Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation; Hudson Maxim, famous inventor of military weapons; H. E. Talbott, Jr., president of the Dayton-Wright Airplane company; Harry B. Mason, secretary of Parke-Davis company, Detroit Chemical concern, which engaged extensively in turning out war products, and Colonel E. A. Deeds, automobile accessory and airplane manufacturer, who was chief aircraft producer during the war.

Heads of the Electric Boat company, manufacturers of Holland type submarines and the Cramp Shipbuilding yards in Philadelphia, which builds warships for the United States and other countries refused to comment on disarmament.

"There is some confusion in the use of the word 'disarmament,'" Dupont said. "To actually disarm is as absurdly utopian as it would be to discontinue the police force of a city on the theory that everybody would be good.

"To limit armament, or at least to eliminate the suicidal competition to obtain supremacy, appeals to everybody's common sense.

"I hope that sound public opinion will compel a limitation of armament.

"Incidentally, it may interest your editors to know that the Dupont company's military powder plants, which furnished a large proportion of the powder used by the United States and the allies during the war have been dismantled and scrapped to the extent of 97 per cent of their capacity."

Favors World Truce

Judge Gary based his approval of armament limitation upon the basis of all great powers acting in concert.

"Upon the assumption that all countries connected with the high seas will agree to limitation concerning armaments I should like to see the United States participate on a just and reasonable basis," he said.

The veteran Maxim favored a five-year world truce to enable all nations to determine the proper extent of armament curtailment.

"An armament truce is what is needed among the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, in order to save the collosal fight of a race for supremacy by force of arms," he stated, "and thus let the world wounds inflicted by the great war be healed and some of the waste repaired and greatly needed internal developments and national progress be fostered by the manpower and money that would be released.

Aviation Development

"Leading nations must always maintain sufficient armament for needed policing of land and sea to maintain good behavior."

Commercial aeronautics would be greatly benefitted by disarmament, according to Talbott, of the Dayton-Wright Airplane company.

To this Colonel Deeds added:

"The real aviation development—along commercial lines—which is to come will produce vastly different planes than the battle craft.

"I believe that if some sort of a disarmament plan is evolved it will be a good thing for aeronautics."

SEEKS ORDINANCES FOR FURTHERING PUBLIC WORK

City Manager Watson Asks Law on Which Glendale May Do Improvements

Ordinances for the handling of financial deposits and procedure for doing public work as provided for by the city charter were recommended to the city council last night by T. W. Watson, city manager, in a communication.

At the suggestion of Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson, the city manager was instructed to provide each of the councilmen with a copy of the communication and, it is probable, action will be taken regarding the ordinances at the meeting of the council next Thursday night.

The city manager's communication follows in full:

"In regard to the handling of deposits and procedure for doing public work as provided for by charter:

"In order to take advantage of the provisions of the charter relating to the handling of funds and procedure for doing public work it is our understanding that it will be necessary for your council to adopt several ordinances.

"Section 18, Article 11, provides for a special deposit fund and that disbursement therefrom shall be as provided by ordinance. As I understand it, provision should be made by ordinance before city treasurer will have authority to make refunds from such special deposit fund.

Valuable Provision

"One of the most valuable provisions in the charter is set forth in Section 10 of Article 6, which reads as follows:

" 'Power to do public work direct: The council shall have power to provide by ordinance a complete procedure whereby the city may bid on all public work done under the provisions of any local improvement ordinance or resolution. Said ordinance shall provide the procedure whereby the city shall perform such public work for which the city may be the lowest bidder. A revolving fund may be created by bond issue for the purpose of financing the cost of such public work.'

"In order to carry out the policy of the city with regard to the laying of water service mains whereby the payment of the cost thereof shall be made by assessment on the property served thereby, it would be quite desirable to have an ordinance drawn under the provisions of this section that would provide a simple procedure whereby the city could proceed to lay such water mains and advance the cost thereof during the period of construction out of funds provided therefor thereby giving the property holders the advantage of having the work done directly by the city, thus eliminating a large portion of the overhead expense therefrom involved in procedure under the provisions of the Vrooman Act, also giving the property holders the advantage of having the work done on a cash basis. After the work is entirely completed an equitable distribution of the actual costs would then be made to the various properties benefited. It would then be optional with the property holders to pay the cost of such improvement at the time or to have bonds issued therefor as provided by law.

Street Reconstruction

"A similar ordinance or probably the same ordinance might be so drawn whereby this procedure could be used also for street reconstruction and possibly for new street construction that might be of a more or less temporary nature such as oiling and graveling roadways where the property-holders do not care to proceed with a more expensive pavement until later.

"One of the largest problems we have at the present time is that of reconstructing approximately forty-six miles of light macadam and oiled gravel roadways. These roadways compose over one-half of our improved street system. They have served well for a period of from five to twelve years. All of them, however, are in a more or less unsatisfactory condition at the present time. Original cost of this pavement averaged less than 4 cents per sq. foot. Present condition of these roadways is not wholly on account of the traffic that they have been called upon to carry, but is largely on account of buckling and rolling which seems to be a natural characteristic of roadways constructed as these were where a large proportion of oil was used in their original construction.

From Past Experiences

"The city of Glendale has reconstructed portions of a number of these roadways and from experience thus gained we are thoroughly convinced that this entire road system can be reconstructed at a comparatively small cost to each individual property-holder and that it is entirely possible for the residence section of Glendale to thus obtain at comparatively small cost a system of residence streets that will compare favorably with any in Southern California. The cost to each individual property holder would be from $20 to $25 for a 50-foot lot. The results obtained from such small expenditure on the part of the individual property-holder would be well worth the outlay as a direct benefit to his property and would if taken as a whole constitute one of the most valuable improvements to the city that could be made at the present time. If there were only a few streets needing attention this way, it is possible that funds might be found to gradually put them in order, but with forty-six miles or more of streets all demanding attention at once the problem becomes financially too great to be handled out of the ordinary revenues of the city, and we believe a policy of reconstructing these streets directly by the city for the property-holder at actual cost is justified under the circumstances.

Power Under Charter

"We understand that the city has this power under the charter.

"It is our understanding that owing to the change in the titles of officers as provided for in charter whose signatures are necessary to the legal procedure for issuance of bonds, it will be necessary for your council to adopt certain ordinances with regard to issuing the bonds of municipal improvement districts Nos. 3 and 4. Accordingly we would respectfully recommend that city attorney be instructed to prepare for your consideration the following:

"First—Ordinance providing for disbursements from special deposit fund.

"Second—One or two ordinances as seems best providing a procedure for doing public work as authorized under Section 10 of Article 6 of city charter.

"Third—Such ordinances as are necessary to provide for the issuing of Municipal Improvement Districts Nos. 3 and 4."

Applications on File for City Positions

Applications for city positions are being received at the city hall, but so far the city council has taken no action toward making any appointments, excepting the placing of Judge Lowe in office as police judge.

James L. Brown has filed his application for the position of chief of police.

W. H. Reeves has put in his application to be city manager.

Charles M. Murphy has made application for the same position.

Burt P. Woodard, chairman of the board of freeholders which drew up the new city charter, has filed application for city attorney.

Owen Emery has also made application to be appointed city attorney.

At a previous meeting the application for appointment as city attorney came from James McBryde, also an application from G. W. Bercaw, who desires to be city manager.

But thus far the council has taken no action and, as provided for by the charter, all present city employees hold office until their successors are appointed.

The council last night adopted an ordinance fixing the time of its meetings, rules of procedure and, too, Mayor Spencer Robinson named the heads of the various council committees.

British War Factories Are Now Peace Plants

LONDON, July 15.—British "war trusts," which turned out death dealing instruments during the war are now engaged largely in production of peace machinery.

Officials of several munitions concerns told the United Press today they will be little affected by limitation of armaments, which is expected to grow out of the Washington conference called by Harding.

The proportion of straight war materials now manufactured by the famous Vickers, Ltd., is extremely small compared with the manifold activities of its huge workshops, an official of that concern said.

"Proof that Vickers is fully equipped for peace work is contained in the fact that practically all our factories which were constructed especially for manufacture of munitions during the war are now being maintained for production of more peaceful things," he declared.

"Airplane engines, automobile parts, machine tools—they are all grist from our mill. The plants in Sheffield and Barrow have been converted exclusively to making locomotives while that at Brith is making cardboard box machinery, that at Crayford, automobile parts and so on.

"We have not been obliged to close down our plants just because the world is tired of instruments of death."

Armstrong, Whitsworth & Company took a similar attitude.

Returns Home to Die, But Regains Health

NEW YORK, July 15.—Godfrey K. Van Warmer, 88, wealthy rancher, Fresno, Cal., who came home from Europe to die, will live to direct the affairs of his ranch for some time, physicians said here today. Van Warmer, believed dying in Europe, was refused passage once but finally accepted by the liner Olympic, which arrived here yesterday. It has been his plea he wanted to "come here to California to die."

The voyage braced his health considerably, physicians said, and he has recuperated to such an extent that he is in no immediate danger of death.

Motor Restaurant Is Used to Take Food Where Guests May Be

A motor "beanery" has made its advent in Glendale.

Robert Russell, chef for the F. P. Newport company, has equipped a trailer for his Ford car in such a fashion as to feed visitors in Verdugo Woodlands wherever they may be.

Heretofore guests of the real estate company which is operating in Verdugo Woodlands have been fed at the Old Adobe on Opeechee way, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell. But since the new tract has been opened on Canada boulevard, about a mile away, it was found more feasible to take the food to the homeseekers, rather than take them to the food.

Spanish beans and other delectables make up the daily menu for the visitors and while soup kitchens on wheels are widely used by the army, this traveling restaurant was considered such an innovation that Manager W. L. Twining has had it photographed for publicity purposes.

King Defeats Breach of Promise Allegation

BANGKOK, Siam—Here's how to jilt a girl without risk of a suit for breach of promise. You have to be an eastern potentate to get away with it, however.

When King Rama VI. of Siam met Princess Vallabha Devi on a shopping expedition, he announced by royal proclamation that he proposed marrying her, and the local press daily referred to the couple as the Sun and Moon, with true eastern reverence.

When, however, he changed his mind recently, the King did it this way, also by royal proclamation of which the following is a full translation:

"BY COMMAND OF THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

"Whereas, in proclaiming His Majesty's betrothal and for this purpose promoting Mom Chow (Her Serene Highness Princess) Vallabha Devi to the title of Phra Varakanayiapadan (the King's betrothed) Phra Ong Chow (Her Royal Highness) (Princess Vallabha Devi, His majesty had no other desire than firmly and definitely to ensure the succession to the throne with a view to the good of the country, as well as the happiness of his own person:

"And whereas, to His Majesty's deepest regret, it has now become apparent, beyond all doubt, that His Majesty's noble desire, as above stated, cannot satisfactorily be met owing to the incompatibility of temperament between His Majesty and Her Royal Highness Princess Vallabha Devi, which may be accounted for by the chronic indisposition of the Princess, whose nervous system leaves much to be desired, so much so that His Majesty is under the apprehension lest in the event of the royal marriage being permitted to take place undesirable consequences may follow in regard to the succession to the throne.

"Now, therefore, His Majesty has commanded that the proclamation relating to His Majesty's betrothal is hereby annulled."

Munitions Kings Are Opposing Disarmament

PARIS, July 15.—Opposition of some if the big munitions manufacturers of Europe to disarmament was revealed here today in connection with the meeting of the league of nations committee on disarmament which was scheduled to meet here Saturday.

Although the league invited the manufacturers to appoint permanent members of the committee they refused to have anything to do with the project, it was stated.

As a consequence the league itself was obliged to find three representatives of munitions interests who would consent to serve. Those finally agreed on were: Secretary Hodez, of the Czecho-Slovakian Industrial of Prague; President Langkjer of the Arbejdagiverforening Vestervoldgade of Copenhagen and Thomas Findley, president and director of the Massey-Harris company of Toronto.

Boys Recruited For Coming Fire Fighters

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—"Catch your firefighter while young," is the motto of William F. Wood, chief engineer of the Portsmouth fire department, who has initiated a plan which promises to develop a good crop of recruits for the force within a few years.

After consultation with state and city fire department and educational officials, he has set up a fire training school for boys.

The first company has been formed, composed of fifteen boys ranging in age from 13 to 17 years, who have been permitted to choose a captain and a lieutenant. In addition to regular periods of instruction at the fire stations, the boys have been made regular "call firemen."

They will not be used on fires in buildings, but will respond to all calls for help on grass, brush and woodland fires. The school authorities have agreed to release them instantly from their studies whenever an alarm for a fire of this character is sounded.

Swiss Physician Has Walked 35,000 Miles

MILAN—Dr. Massimo Armando Leuret, aged 36, a Swiss physician, has arrived here after walking 35,000 miles in both old and new worlds. He asserts that his tour took him around the globe commencing on January 1, 1914, and cost him $40,000.

He says he left Switzerland going north to Germany, Poland and Russia. He was in the last named country when war began and continued the journey across Russia to Siberia. He then visited China and Japan and later crossed the Pacific to America. He claims to have traversed both North and South America on foot. His trip from the Pacific coast to New York was made alternately in Canada and the United States.

When he got to Switzerland he decided that he had not yet seen Italy nor Africa and has commenced now his journey through them.

Tolstoi's Grandson Is Under Death Sentence

ROME—Count Elias Tolstoi, a grandson of the famous Russian writer, has just arrived here after a journey through China and Japan, having escaped from the bolsheviki. In 1918, after three days of married life, he had to flee from Moscow because he was condemned to death and now he is in ignorance as to whether his bride is dead or alive.

He joined Admiral Kolchak's forces and fought against the bolsheviki, was stricken with typhus on three occasions and was nursed in the American hospital at Omsk.

He said that his aunt, Catherine, is in prison at Moscow and another aunt, Tatiana, is a servant of a bolshevik family.

Tolstoi predicts the sure and inevitable death of bolshevism, either through demobilization or starvation of the army. The rations of the soldiers, he said, have been reduced to a quarter of a pound of bread and one-eighth of a sausage. He added that Russia could not now-a-days produce even a needle.

Pekin Warns About Deals With Dr. Sun

PEKIN—The foreign office recently has sent a formal notification to all legations in Pekin advising them to warn their nationals against entering into any contracts with the Canton government headed by Dr. Sun Yat-sen which entail hypothecation of any properties which rightfully belong to the Chinese government.

"It develops," says the note of warning, "that Dr. Sun Yat-sen, Gen. Chen Chiung-min and others in Kwanttung intend to force the provincial bank of Kwangtung to issue a series of notes aggregating $10,000,000 and to put them in circulation, one-half to be pledged to foreign banks for a cash advance.

"They are also reported to have ordered that the mint or the Canton-Hankow railway be pledged to foreign interests for loans to be used for military purposes."

The cost of producing a ton of hard coal is from two and a half to three times as great as for mining a ton of bituminous coal because the beds are deeper, thinner and generally inclined at steeper angles than those of the soft coal.

Patronage Row Among Republicans Under Way

BY L. C. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Collection of "Promissory Notes," issued by some enthusiastic politicians before, during and after the Republican convention last June is causing trouble in Republican party circles.

These "Promissory Notes" were in fact vague assurances of federal jobs. They were not made in a way to violate the federal corrupt practices act, but apparently many workers took them to be good and are now holding the makers for payment.

That, in substance, is the bottom of the situation which was exemplified in the quarrel between Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Attorney General Daugherty over patronage.

As explained by Republican politicians here, too many promises were made by too many persons. These promises were mostly vague and were born perhaps of the enthusiasm of the moment. But now it develops that a good many more folks have expectations than there are places.

Daugherty, as President Harding's chief political advisor, has been more or less in charge of the pie counter. He has been, of course, in sole charge of the many federal judgeships, district attorneyships and United States marshalships which come under the department of justice. He has in some cases appointed men whose selection was a great disappointment to other Republican politicians, who had given other candidates assurances.

An army of grasshoppers is advancing on El Paso county, Colorado, from the southwest, destroying virtually all vegetation in its course. The county farm agent says the onslaught of grasshoppers is the largest in the history of that section.

Treaty Control Over Europe Is Coming Back

By CLYDE A. BEALS
Written for the United Press

LONDON—The old treatyfied Europe in a more extreme form, though possibly under much more favorable circumstances, is being rapidly restored. The outlet for the adjustment of territorial disputes provided by the league of nations, however, may render "local adjustments" practical, and failing anything better, even desirable.

The sponsor of the amendment to Article XXI. of the league covenant, recognizing and encouraging local applications of the broad principles laid down by the league, Dr. Benes, the Czecho-Slovakian foreign minister, is also one of the moving spirits in the Little Entente. In an interview he discussed for the United Press the effect of the amendment and of the Little Entente on the peace of Central Europe.

"The amendment is an important addition, I believe," he said, "to the league of nations covenant. There are many local problems that, for the league to attempt to settle, would provide endless complications. This amendment will provide for their settlement on the principles of the covenant by the nations concerned.

"The Little Entente, consisting at present of Jugoslavia, Roumania and Czechoslovakia, comes within the meaning of this amendment. It it designed to promote economic adjustments.

Our nations have gained our independence at a great cost and we mean to see that nothing upsets it. We have arranged treaties requiring military support in a case where a member of the Little Entente is attacked or in cases where the peace of central Europe is prejudiced. We want to prevent war from breaking out.

"Because Czecho-Slovakia has refused to enter into a Danubian confederation, which is supposed to be able to bring about peace in Central Europe, we have been accused of seeking to keep Austria and Hungary beggared. I have opposed the Danube federation. It is not wanted. If we formed the Danubian confederation without the other powers, we should be outnumbered two to one, which would not be bad but for the fact that both Austria and Hungary are so strongly influenced by Germany. It would amount practically to a re-establishment of Mittel Europa. This we simply cannot tolerate, just as we cannot tolerate an Austro-German union.

"Austria's condition, even without any alliance, is improving. She has plenty of coal. Her chief difficulty is to get capital invested in her industries.

"Central Europe, and Austria especially, has been the victim both of internal economic depression and world-wide depression. Within six months the world-wide depression will show a great improvement which will automatically aid central Europe."

Paid $500,000 to Get Opium Permit, Claim

By CHARLES EDWARD HOGUE
United Press Staff Correspondent

HANKOW, China—Half a million dollars monthly tribute will be paid to the provincial authorities of Hunan province for a monopoly of the opium traffic there, it was announced today, as a result of an auction conducted by the state government. Hsia Tou-ying, a former Tuchun (military governor) of this province of Hupeh, made the winning bid.

Refusing to recognize the prohibition of opium traffic provided in the criminal code of the Republic of China, the provincial authorities have taken advantage of the chaotic conditions existing throughout the nation to revive the drug trade to provide revenue for the maintenance of their local armies. Each province has its own army subject to the call of the Central government at Peking or the Southern government at Canton only when it suits the whim of the local party in power.

For a time it appeared that some progress was being made toward the ending of the growing of opium in China. But when it was learned that foreign interests had reaped immense fortunes from the disposal of drug stocks on hand at the time of the "clean-up," the natives revelled against the new order of things and revived the industry.

A royal decree has been issued in Belgium for the calling of an international congress for the protection of children. The question of establishing an international office for child protection will be discussed.

ALICE CALHOUN, NEW STAR, IS FEATURE AT GLENDALE

Admirable Vehicle Provided for Young Actress by 'Princess Jones' Story

Princess Jones did not mean to pose as a princess of the blood. She was a normal and healthy-minded American girl in humble circumstances, but thought she should do something to live up to the romantic name her mother had given her. She did not dream what amazing adventures she was to have.

The story is told in "Princess Jones," by Joseph Franklin Poland, a Vitagraph production starring Alice Calhoun. It will be shown at the Glendale Theatre today only.

Alice Calhoun is Vitagraph's youngest star in point of years and experience on the screen. She is 18 years old, and her first appearance on the screen, in a small part in an O. Henry classic, was made only a little over two years ago. "Princess Jones" provides an admirable vehicle for her appearance as a star.

Aesop's Fables Modernized, the latest film novelty; a Century comedy, "On Account," and Urban Movie Chats round out the record bill. On Saturday "Children of the Night" is the film feature in addition to the vaudeville road show.

Make Colonies Pay, Is Plan of Italian Duke

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent

ROME—The Duke of the Abbruzzi is again putting his personal services at the disposition of the crown in a serious effort to develop Italy's colony of Somaliland, down near the Red Sea.

He has already been there several months and Italy is now beginning to receive some of the fruits of his efforts.

Up to the present time, Italy's colonies have been much more of a liability to her than a dividend-paying asset. They consist principally of Tripoli and Cirenaica in the northern part of Africa and Erytrea and Italian Somaliland in the eastern part. None of them have ever reached a point of development to render them an important factor in Italy's economic life, as is the case with the colonies of nearly all the other European countries.

This situation Italy is now trying to remedy and the Duke of the Abbruzzi's expedition into Somaliland is one of the first steps in that direction. He is putting into the task all of the scientific knowledge as well as patriotic zeal that characterized his polar voyages and his other undertakings on behalf of Italy.

He will remain in the Somaliland until October, when he expects to be able to render the government a complete record on the economic possibilities of the colony. One of his principal tasks is the supervising of the work already under way for its entire length. This will then serve as the means of transportation necessary for the material for putting large tracts of the colony under cultivation.

Huge quantities of agricultural machinery and other materials have already reached Mogaiscio. This is being distributed over the colony as fast as means of transportation can be developed.

Aside from about sixty white workmen whom he has with him, the Duke of the Abbruzzi is depending exclusively on indigenous labor for carrying out the various projects to place the territory under cultivation and render it an asset to Italy's national life.

Tabulation shows there were 13,935 seats sold at $50, 3,192 at $40, 2,228 at $30, 14,318 at $25, 2,441 at $20, 13,639 at $15, 18,016 at $10 and 7,469 at $5.50.

Corsets Lose Out In Contest With Fashion

LONDON—All stays abandon, ye who wear smart frocks.

That is the command issued on the threshold of a new dress season and the woman who intends to follow fashion's decree will roll up her corsets and give them to the charlady to light the fire with.

If she keeps them round her form, she can't get the "correct" line, which Paris says must be long with easy movement at the hips.

This is to be a "swish" year, but a non-rustle one. That is, soft satin is to be the popular fabric, while taffetas and other rustling silks are to be given a rest.

Mayfair salons are already bright with gaudy colors. Mustard tweed coats have silver braid for decoration, while vivid jade is modeled as a suit with a high collar of blue and white checked satin. Real old tartan plaid is everywhere in evidence and the color epidemic is spreading also to hats. Quite the favorite color for headgear is tomato red and every other tone of red, including scarlet. In fact, the woman whose wardrobe does not include a red hat might as well have no hat at all, so far as being fashionable is concerned.

A Swiss scientist has built a clock that is operated by the expansion or contraction due to temperature changes of strips of zinc totaling about 1000 feet.

EDUCATION TO FULL APPRECIATION OF LAW NEEDED

Danger of Death as Long as Motorists Look on Rules as Plagues

Judge F. H. Lowe, police judge of Glendale, who daily has the duty of sentencing traffic law violators, has requested the reproduction of the following:

Traffic violations will never be appreciably decreased until the motoring public is educated to a full appreciation of the fundamental principles of law and order, is the declaration of F. E. Lewis, Los Angeles motor car dealer.

"As long as motorists look upon county speed laws and city traffic ordinances as a plague to be overstepped or avoided for personal whim and prejudice, just so long will life and limb be sacrificed on the altar of recklessness," says Mr. Lewis.

What's the Answer?

"Why is it that a man will deliberately violate the law whenever he thinks that he won't be caught at it? Nobody knows unless it is just his inherent perversity. He will drive his car with wide-open throttle if he feels he can get by with it.

"But just let one of the much abused minions of the law flag the violator and arrest him and the motorist is consumed with self pity. The cop is cursed for a brute and the judge who hands out a fine or a jail sentence is denounced as a cruel tyrant.

Won't Admit Fault

"The offender will swear he didn't see a sign or didn't know the limit or that he wasn't going that fast. He won't admit his own fault, yet if he reads of another motorist running down a pedestrian that man is denounced as a criminal.

"The motoring public needs a change of heart," declares Mr. Lewis. "More realization, not only of the fundamentals of common courtesy, but of the practical application of the world-old principle of the Golden Rule. The motorist should realize that the law is really for him either way and that it is the pettiness of infants to abuse the cop."

Navajo Blankets Due For Drop In Prices

RAMAH, N. M.—The economic pinch among the Navajos is likely to be relieved this fall by the promising crop of pinon nuts which abound in the forests near here. The trees are carrying many cones which will develop by fall into many cells of nuts. The Navajos make a comfortable living by going into the woods with their entire families, their sheep, goats and ponies, where they camp while all members of the family get down on their knees and gather the tiny but delicious nuts.

Local merchants buy them from 5 to 15 cents a pound, depending on the market, and this helps the merchants as well as the Indians, who are now very poor.

The low price of wool, lambs and pelts has been very hard on the Navajos, whose living comes from the sheep mostly.

The hard time has forced the Navajos to weave more Navajo blankets than they have for many years. Indian outfits who formerly sold their wool are now going back to the loom and Ramah, as well as many points among the Indians, is getting more and better Navajo blankets than ever before. Many young squaws who never wove before have been forced to make blankets to earn a bare living, while the old-timers are all back in the game.

Ranchmen and farmers who are able to get the cash have been taking advantage of the low price of rugs to buy some, while a good many thrifty housewives have bought wool at 8 cents a pound to make wool comforters for their homes. Navajo wool is particularly suited for comforters and is worth now but one-fourth of its former price.

The Ramah Navajos have not been effected by the typhus, but are being watched for any outbreak of this sort.

The group living near here are about 500 in number and live from three to 20 miles distant from the village of Ramah.

Officials of Packing Companies Before Jury

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 15.—Officials of two large Chicago packing companies told the Sangamon county grand jury what they knew about alleged juggling of $10,000,000 state funds by high officials.

The grand jury is probing charges that Governor Small and Lieutenant Governor Sterling misused state funds while serving as state treasurers. W. W. Sherman, assistant treasurer of Swift & Co., and F. W. Crowell, treasurer of Armour & Co., were called before the investigators to present their companies' side of the transaction whereby the packers obtained the huge loan.

Grasshopper Menace Now Under Control

WINNIPEG — The grasshopper menace in the province of Manitoba is well under control and effective use of the poison and other supplies forwarded by the Manitoba department of agriculture is being made wherever the grasshoppers show themselves, according to reports received by J. "Although 'hoppers are appearing in some districts, they are being kept under control by the various municipalities," Mr. Evans said.

Sisters, 77 and 75, Meet After 40 Years

KIRKSVILLE, Mo.—Mrs. Lucy Wason of Kansas City and Mrs. Inis Musick of Kirksville met for the first time in forty years, when Mrs. Wason came from Kansas City to visit her sister. Mrs. Wason formerly resided in this county, but she and her family left here forty years ago for Eureka Springs, Ark. She kept in touch with her sister for twenty years, but then stopped corresponding.

A month ago Mrs. Wason wrote to Mrs. Musick, addressing her at Brashear, where the family formerly resided. The letter was forwarded here. Since leaving Adair county Mrs. Wilson has resided in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Southern Missouri. She is now making her home with a daughter in Kansas City. Mrs. Wason is 77 years old and Mrs. Musick is 75.

PALACE GRAND HAS THOMAS MEIGHAN IN CROOK ROLE

'White and Unmarried' Title of Picture Attraction Now Being Featured

Thomas Meighan in a real crook role! That accounts for the well attended performances at the Palace Grand theatre yesterday where the Paramount star is appearing in his latest vehicle, "White and Unmarried." The star plays Billy Kane, known as "The Hermit" because he works alone. On one of his forages, Billy finds a picture of a girl and admires it very much. Later he inherits from his uncle, a deceased bookmaker, half a million dollars, and starts for Europe. On the steamer he meets the girl of the photograph.

In Paris, he takes her slumming and in a Bohemian cafe, the girl becomes with Marechal, a French pickpocket. Billy falls in love with Andree, a little dancer of the cafe, thereby incurring the enmity of Chicoq, an Apache. Chicoq abducts Andree and conceals her in Marechal's farmhouse. Dorothea, the girl, discovers Marechal's real character and tells Billy where Andree is hidden.

Thrilling Gun Fight

After one of the most thrilling gun fights ever screened, the hero rescues Andree, but not before he has killed Chicoq, Marechal and another man. The death of Marechal liberates Dorothea from the distasteful marriage.

Jacqueline Logan, former Follies dancer plays Andree, Grace Darmond is Dorothea and others of importance are Fred Vroom, Marion Skinner, Walter Long and Lloyd Whitlock.

With "Man vs. Woman" as the comedy half of the program this same pleasing bill will be seen today. Tomorrow's feature attraction is Will Rogers, the inimitable, who is well known locally for his American Legion benefit performance a month ago, in "An Unwilling Hero." "What Every Woman Knows" is Sunday and Monday's offering at the Palace Grand.

La Crescenta Notes

D. E. Luther, for the past sixteen years secretary of the Los Angeles Young Men's Christian association, died at his home, 1226 Orange street, Los Angeles, last Monday following a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Luther was a recent residence of Montrose and just last week purchased a lot expecting to make Montrose his permanent home.

Owing to the fact that Glendale annexed some of the local school territory—the school bonds voted some weeks ago—will have to be voted again. The next election will be held at the Crescenta schoolhouse, July 22, and the amount of bonds $18,500.

Ex-Congressman James McLocklen, who has been very ill, is convalescing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. S. Bissell of "Hi-Up" ranch.

Mrs. S. Goddard of La Canada was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge club this week.

Mrs. F. H. Czerniski, Miss Czerniski and Master Fred Czerniski are at Catalina for the month of July.

August 13 is the date set for the dance to be given by the La Crescenta Woman's club. Fletcher's orchestra of Pasadena will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keefer entertained with a delightful dancing party last Tuesday evening for their daughters, Misses Dorothy and Virginia Keefer.

A. Goldburg was held up and robbed of $17 last Saturday night on Verdugo Road—just north of Glendale. Two men jumped on the rear of his car and choked him.

Mrs. C. E. Culberson and Miss Janet Culberson are at Catalina for July.

Expenses of U. S. for War 4 Billion Yearly

By RALPH COUCH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 15.—War past, present and future, cost the United States nearly $4,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ended July 1, treasury department records showed today.

Seventy-five cents out of each dollar of the taxpayers went into bills arising from war or preparation for war.

Other nations are spending as great or a greater percentage of their income for war. This explains why the people are bringing pressure on their government to accept President Hardings' invitation for a disarmament conference.

Tax collections for the year totaled $5,115,928,000, while disbursements for war purposes amounted to $3,836,928,000 without taking into account millions paid out in pensions by the pension bureau, by the war risk bureau and a score of other expenditures by departments which are not generally classified as war-conducting branches of the government.

The percentage spent for war in the previous fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, was 92 cents out of each dollar collected in taxes. The actual amount was $5,934,235,000. But in that year the government received in taxes a total of $6,403,344,000. In the fiscal year just ended, therefore cost the peace government of the United States just $2,097,289,000 less than in the preceding fiscal year.

For the first eleven months of the fiscal year just ended, the government spent a total of $3,493,142,000 for war purposes. Of this the largest single item was the maintenance of the war department and the army, for which a total of $987,584,000 was expended. The navy department spent $610,000,000. This is a total for these two defense departments of $1,597,584,000.

Interest on the public debt, mainly arising from the great war, cost the government $859,658,000 in the first eleven months of the fiscal year. Detailed figures for the entire year will not be available for several days.

The shipping board, created during and as a result of the world war, spent a total of $131,739,000 without counting the loss that was incurred when the board was forced to sell ships at far below what they cost the government. This loss is an item that will increase during the present fiscal year as more and more ships are disposed of.

The government paid $728,588,000 to the railroads on account of obligations incurred during the government control brought on during the war.

These are only the larger expenditures.

The Red Cross has developed a disaster census card to be used by relief workers in cases of disaster. "Disaster kits" are now provided all Red Cross division offices and contain all sorts of supplies, record forms, badges, telegraph blanks and other essentials which may be needed in an emergency, for setting up relief headquarters with least possible delay.

Kensington Club of Relief Corps Meets

The Kensington Club of the Woman's Relief Corps met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel, 308 North Orange street. Thirty-five members were present and the afternoon was devoted to a "Historical Contest" and a pleasant social time. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Denney and others. During the afternoon Mrs. Russell presented the club with the complete top and lining for a quilt.

Preparation

Spending your last dollar each week is no way of preparing for the future. There may come a time when you will not have a last dollar to spend. Then where will you turn for aid and comfort? Surely those with whom you spent your last dollar will not assist you.

Better that a man practice Thrift and lay aside a part of his income, even though it be but two or three dollars each week. Then he can rest assured that the road of the future will be easier to travel when adverse conditions come upon him.

He will have the necessary wherewithal to tide him over the rough spots.

Boy Age 9 In Court Contest for Freedom

DAYTON, Ohio, July 15.—Willie Stevenson, 9, on trial in juvenile court on charges of killing 8-year-old Henry B. Levine, fought with all his boyish energy for freedom today.

Although Judge R. Maggott and police officers say Willie admitted to them when first arrested that he had killed his playmate the youthful prisoner vigorously denied the confession in open court.

Two other boys who were said to have been with Willie when the Levine boy was killed, were held as witnesses. They are Vincent Hall and George Bayam, both 9 years old.

Henry and Willie quarreled. Willie is said to have struck Henry with an iron bar, breaking his neck. The four boys were at the edge of a pond, planning to go swimming. They stripped Henry's clothes from his body, tied a rock to his hands and rolled him into the water, according to the authorities.

Girl of 15 Will Be Important Witness

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 15.—Clara Mullicane, 15, sister of the accused girl, will be star witness for the defense in the trial of Erie Mullicane, Lebanon, Mo., girl at Los Angeles on a charge of murdering her infant child, it was declared here today.

Clara and attorneys in the case who have been in Lebanon taking depositions for the trial, July 25, of Erie, who is alleged to have named W. E. McComb, wealthy Lebanon banker, as the father of the dead child, passed through here en route to Los Angeles.

Attorneys said questions asked in the Lebanon deposition taking indicated the defense of Miss Mullicane would be "temporary insanity." Her mother testified she had been struck on the head with a horseshoe when she was seven years old.

Opposing Lloyd George as Delegation's Head

LONDON, July 15.—Opposition to Premier Lloyd George as head of the British delegation to the Washington disarmament conference was growing today.

The premier's political enemies were marshaling their forces to forestall him from assuming the leadership.

In well informed circles Arthur Balfour is being mentioned as possible chief of the British delegation.

The Times, in a leading editorial, following up Viscount Northcliffe's interview with the United Press, strongly opposed participation of either Premier Lloyd George or Lord Curzon in the conference. The latter was characterized as particularly undesirable because of his "pompous pretentious manner and business incapacity, as exhibited in the present state of his department."

'DEAR KATIE' HEARS SOME HOT TRUTHS ABOUT WEATHER

Back East You Are Cool One Day and Hot the Next; It's Different Here

GLENDALE, July 15, 1921.

Dear Katie: On the paper a couple of days ago it says as how the eastern states and points north has just come to the end of thirty days of heat and sufferin.'

It says as how the crops and the people in general has had a awful time of it.

Well then, I wonders to myself as what has happened to Katie—if anything.

Of course, Katie, the weather back there in Wisconsin where you live always was about as reliable as a bottle of fat reducer, anyhow.

In your low, flat, no-view haven of unrest, your perfect ideal days are about as common as cyclones are in Glendale.

Your Wisconsin weather is like the hired girl—both subject to change without notice.

One day you buy a straw hat and the next day you got a chance to wear it to a sleigh ride party.

This week you pay out a quarter to get the lawn mower sharpened, and next week you'll be puttin on the storm windows and start polishing up the coal hod.

Some Warm Comparisons

Back there on hot nights you all go crazy with the heat, cause you have to cover up with a lot of blankets to escape the moths and mosquitoes.

Out here in Glendale there's about as many mosquitos as there is dollars in my week's wages. And we cover up with a couple of blankets cause the nights are cool and comfortable and in the peaceful influence of a perfume laden breeze, we sleep as sound as baby ground hogs.

And Katie, back there where it's a hundred in the shade, and no shade, everybody just shuffles around breathin the stiflin dust and a little gust of wind on their heated brows feels as welcome as a electric fan would be in Dante's Inferno.

Of course, Katie, we have some days in Glendale when it's warmer than other days, but all we have to do is to step into the shade and right away we have to step out into the sun again to get warm.

I suppose everybody back there in your town, Katie, has been going around during the hot spell and feeling kinda optimistic about it, cause no doubt they figured as how it must be at least a couple hundred above zero out here in California. Well, Katie, ignorance is bliss as Tom Edison says.

Enjoy Cool Things

But out here in Glendale where our climate is continuous, we are far from the heat and clamor of life in a big city. Here we enjoy the cool and balmy ocean breezes which the same comes from all directions to once.

The nice summer weather which we been havin out here just Knox straw hats to half price. No country in the world, Katie, has got as much climate as California has. It's never too hot in winter and never too cool in summer. All the thunder and lightnin we get out here is in the movie world of Hollywood and it's made out of flash lights and base drums. And it never rains in summer time.

Anybody out here can plan on a picnic for weeks ahead with no fear of rain spoilin the party.

But, Katie, if I was to ever get a day off to go to a picnic I'd be willin to wear a raincoat, rubber boots and a umbrella. Well, Katie, its too hot to write any more today. As we go to press, the tempometer has climbed up to ——, well, anyway, I've seen it worse in Wisconsin.

Yours, till snow flies in Glendale,
E. C. HALE.

Help came from the skies when a man walked off the sea wall recently into the Potomac river. The pilot of a seaplane 500 feet in the air saw him plunge into the water and swooping down enabled his companion flier to drag the drowning man to safety.

PLANS TO RELIEVE CONGESTED AREA ARE ADOPTED

Cost to Be About $36,000 and 75 Per Cent Permanent, Authorities Say

ferent sections and an epidemic result. I am in favor of the plan submitted and I move its adoption."

"I second the motion," said Councilman Davis, "but I am not especially taken with the plan submitted, altnough, perhaps, it is the best emergency measure possible. I will vote for it as an emergency measure, so that it will be possible to get relief to the district involved."

Greater Portion Permanent

"I am in favor of the motion," said Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson, "especially as we are informed that practically seventy-five per cent of the proposed improvement will be permanent. We are told that when Glendale finally secures a general sewage disposal system, all of the pipe lines installed in the business section will be connected to the new system and, therefore, the greater part of the investment made now will not be lost nor will it be included in a bond issue. That makes the present plan appeal to me very strongly."

It is estimated that out of a probable total investment of $36,000, only about $7000 will, eventually, prove a total loss, this being the money spent in installing septic tanks.

It is proposed to install seven septic tanks, connected, and a complete system of pipes, the latter being of a nature that will, when a general system is secured, permit of permanent use .

From City Manager

Previous to the unanimous passage of the motion adopting the plans, a communication was read from T. W. Watson, city manager, as follows:

"In regard to plans for sewage disposal for a portion of the business district which were submitted to the board of trustees Juns 16, 1921 and were referred to the city engineer for checking as to specifications and estimate of cost:

"Pursuant to these instructions these plans and specifications have been thoroughly checked by the city engineer and a few minor changes and extensions recommended which have been incorporated in the plans as presented herewith. The estimate of cost has been slightly increased on account of these extensions making a total estimated cost of $36,437. The approximate frontage in the assessment district is 6520 feet. The assessment per front foot on the basis of the above estimate would be $5.60 or $280 per fifty foot lot.

Three To Be Obtained

"There are three easements yet to be obtained or rights of way over property not yet dedicated for public use. These have been prepared and are now in the hands of parties whose signatures thereto are required. We have been promised these easements the first part of next week.

"The resolution of intention has been prepared by the city engineer and is in the hands of the city attorney for approval.

"The specifications for sewer pipe have been left open pending the receipt of bids on vitrified and concrete pipe. These bids will be in hand early next week in time to determine which to specify in resolution of intention. It is our understanding that either concrete or vitrified pipe is acceptable for this work. The only question is as to which may be furnished at the lowest price.

"Shortly after these plans were submitted to the Board of Trustees, June 16 last, we found that some opposition to the plan had developed among certain owners of business property in the district so we thought best to check up closely on the petition that had been filed. We found that about 25 per cent of the frontage in the district was represented on such petition. We then requested the Chamber of Commerce to cause petitions to be again circulated and the district thoroughly canvassed which has been done and I understand that J. M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is present this evening and will present supplemental petition. I also understand that a number of business men will be present who desire to discuss the matter with your council and to urge that favorable action [illegible] be taken at once.

"If these plans meet with the approval of your council we would recommend their adoption and that the city attorney be instructed to prepare a resolution under the Vrooman Act in accordance therewith."

According to statements made during the council meeting it is understood the public service corporations having property within the proposed assessment district will not protest the plans.

Mrs. M. H. Krauth Is Honor Guest at Picnic

Mrs. M. H. Krauth of Alameda, who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ingram, 336 West Broadway, has been the motif for several pleasant affairs during her short visit in Glendale. Wednesday evening a neighborhood picnic was given in her honor at Brookside park in Pasadena. The guests bidden to enjoy the picnic supper were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Barnett, Mrs. Emma Wood, L. Bond, Junior Bond, Douglas Wilson of Riverside, Mrs. M. H. Krauth, Mrs. T. S. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ingram, Jean Ingram, Jean Caldwell and Stuart Caldwell.

The ladies and young folk spent a most pleasant afternoon in the park, being joined by their escorts at supper time.

Following the feast a vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Caldwell, whose happy inspiration resulted in the pleasant evening.

The I. C. O. class of the Tropico Presbyterian church were entertained Thursday night at the home of the Misses Georgia and Dorothy Thompson, 1817 Gardena avenue. The young people were entertained on the lawn and porch and delicious refreshments served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Those present included Miss Helena Richardson, Miss Norma Wallace, Miss Frances Goldsborough, Miss Janice Kaley, Miss Margaret Richardson, Miss Harriet Wood, Walter Sulliven, Herbert Bruck, Ben Marsh, Jack Marsh, Robert Mentzer, Nevelle Richardson and Harry Richardson. Miss Carol Duncan, the class teacher, was the special patroness of the affair.

the limit in making these floats wondrous affairs of interest and beauty. The Brunton float, a beautiful basket of delicately tinted tulips, each flower a frame for one of the pretty girls, was a particularly beautiful piece of artistry. But to pick out any especial floats as above the rest would be the rankest of injustice.

Nor were these radiant creations of the movie artists the only features; there were the beautiful screen stars and girls who participated. Hundreds of them, ravishing beauties, the pick of filmdom. There was Clara Kimball Young and her "Gems of Old Spain." From the reception they received the crowd evidently agreed with a Brother Bill from Salt Lake City who remarked,

"Say, I'd be satisfied for life with a handful of those gems."

Queen of Sheba There

Then there was the Queen of Sheba with all of her maids of attendance, by Fox; there was the Maid of the Surf; there were Chinese girls, French girls, cow-girls and girls of all nations in a bewildering array of costumes, but all good to look at, and all entering thoroughly into the spirit of the affair.

Came Joe Martin, the educated ape, riding in his own machine and puffing contentedly on his familiar briar; followed the animal circus and the allegorical float depicting censorship on the throne of Ignorance, with Joy tightly chained, while the Busybody Harpies were engaged in the indiscriminate wrecking of American institutions.

The One-Man Car by Hal Roach kept the crowd continually convulsed with merriment by the clever satires on this much-discussed mode of travel.

And also there was Glendale's band with Drum-Major Neal Graham juggling his baton and cutting capers in a manner that must have turned the leader of "Alexander's Rag Time Band" green with envy.

Altogether it was SOME show.

'DEAR KATIE' HEARS TRAMP! TRAMP! OF MARCHING ELKS

Plenty of Pep Is Put Into the Parade; Even Elephant Becomes Excited

Glendale, July 15, 1921.

Dear Katie:—I ain't goin' to take time to tell you as how there is a Elk's convention bein' had in Los Angeles this week, cause if you're still in doubt about the matter after all I've said and done, then I might as well throw this job as strivin' reporter in the ash can and go back to shovelin' cinders in the gas works.

This week I been hikin' around so much to write artikles about the Elk's doin's that I got writer's cramps in my feet.

Yesterday I went down to Los Angeles to write a artikle about the Elk's Grand Lodge Reunion Parade.

Well Katie, the parade was supposed to commence to begin at 10 A. M. and it was only 11 when I got there and seein as how parades is about as reliable as messenger boys and the weather reports, I decided as how I might as well of stayed to home and mowed the lawn till noon anyway.

And Katie, on the paper it said as how there was only 100,000 "Strangers from Somewhere" in Los A. this week, but at one glance, I decided as how there was at least twice that many at the corner of 6th and Broadway alone.

Jammed Into Jam

And right away I got mixed up into a awful jam of human bein's and cops.

One cop told me to keep movin', another one told me to keep to the right, and Katie when I told the next cop as how I was just a strivin reporter, he told me to keep still.

I was gettin' orders faster than I'll ever get dollars and everywhere there was signs which the same said Welcome Elks, but outside of that I was feelin' about as welcome as a case of the measles.

A fat lady as big as the west end of a Pasadena bus backed me into a siding till I was squeezed in as tight as a window on the P. E. and when I got outa that predicament I begun to look around for somebody to take care of me. I begun to decide as how I better get someplace where I could see the parade, so I could write a artikle about it for The Glendale Evening News, cause if I didn't, nobody in Glendale would know how it come out, cause if there was anybody from Glendale besides me which was lucky enough to get inside of 4 blocks of Broadway, it was cause they had been there since last Monday or had come in a airoplane.

So at last I found a little vacant spot on the curbin' and I set down on it, where I had a nice view of the cops and the climate and that's about all.

Whole Box for Quarter

Then the crowds begun to holler and the parade was comin' and my heart begun to go pitter patter with excitement. A kid come along that was carrin' a soap box and I give him a quarter for it and by standin' on the soap box I had a good view of the buildin's across the street.

Now Katie, if I was to tell you all about that parade it would take a couple dollar's worth of stationary, so I'm just goin' to try to be short and brief, (like a Venice bathin suit).

It was wonderful, gorgeous, beautiful and marvelous.

It was 4 miles and 3½ hours long.

There was 36 bands with 1200 men.

It was Crash, Whiz, Bang, Boom.

It was the most magnificent myriad of matchless marchers and a mad mob of mirth, music and merriment, ever seen in captivity.

And Katie, when that Glendale bunch swung into view, I just let out a yell that must of rattled the tea cups in the china closet.

In the mightiness of the moment I got so rattled I didn't know whether I was writin' a artikle or yellin' fire.

The Glendale band of 36 men looked as nice as a million dollars.

Even Elephant Looks Big

The drill team of 25 men, the bugle corps of 9 men, Hoot Gibson and a troop on horse back, 8 men on mules with antlers on their heads and bells on their toes, a honest to goodness elephant with 8 men on his back, a antique stage coach and about 500 marchin' Elks bringin' up the rear was Glendale's donation.

And Katie, they went down Broadway, swingin' in the poetry of motion like a pendulum in a clock.

The Eyes of The World was upon Glendale which was a whole parade in itself. Well Katie, I tagged along with the home team and I felt as proud as a kid with a dollar watch.

And then somethin' happened which I guess wasn't down on the program. Right in front of the reviewer's stand, the elephant decided I guess as how he had come to the end of the trail. Anyway, his belt slipped outa place, the basket on his back begun to wobble and then all to once 8 dignified horrified Elks slid off that elephant like water off of a duck's back.

Katie it was funny.

Everybody except the elephant screamed with joy and laughter. It was the end of a perfect parade.

Yours Till They March Again,
E. C. HALE.

Crystal Bead Screen at Glendale Theatre

The crystal bead screen for the Glendale Theatre arrived yesterday and tonight a crew of six men is putting the ton of glass into place. It will be used for the reproduction of the pictures on Saturday for the first time, according to Manager William A. Howe, who states that it is the most efficient and expensive motion picture screen made.

S. Berman Has Quick Answer During Parade

During the Elks parade in Los Angeles yesterday morning, someone called to S. Berman, the tailor, asking him:

"How do you get so many 'Bills' from Glendale?"

"At the rate we're growing we'll soon take in Los Angeles if it will behave," replied Berman as he marched along.

LOCAL BALL SQUAD TO PRACTICE FOR SUNDAY GAME

Team to Workout Saturday for Coming Bout With Alhambra Visitors

Now that the big convention is practically over and the members of the local Elks' lodge are recuperating from their arduous tasks of the past few weeks, Manager Salmacia of the baseball team is planning on holding weekly practices for his squad, in an effort to finish one, two, three in the Elks' league. The first of these practices will take place Saturday afternoon at the high school grounds, and all of the local players are expected to be present.

Although Glendale has not yet entered the "won" column it is nevertheless considered as one of the strongest aggregations in the northern division of the Southern California Elks' Baseball Association. The two games that they have lost have both been won by A-1 semi-professional clubs, and incidentally each game was characterized by "hard luck." The last game, which was won by the Pasadena Elks, was a ten-inning fracas which ended in a 4 to 3 score.

This week's game is scheduled to be played with Alhambra, and will take place Sunday afternoon on the local Elks' diamond. This will be Glendale's first game in three weeks and a record crowd is expected to witness the set-to. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

Orpheum Attractions at Glendale Theatre

Two Orpheum attratcions, one of Europe's most famous violinists and a celebrated comedy juggler direct from the New York Hippodrome are on the Meiklejohn and Dunn vaudeville road show which plays tomorrow matinee and night at the Glendale theatre.

Leo Fillier, known as the musical clown plays everything "from jazz to opera," and on his tours of America has played the Orpheum and Keith circuits. He limits his program to four numbers.

Foster Ball, well-known Orpheum favorite, will bring his act "Fit to Fight." He is accorded the honor of being America's greatest old soldier character comedian.

The Three Romanos Sisters, dancers deluxe who appear in a series of dances entitled, "Dance Divertisements," appeared on the Los Angeles Orpheum program just a week ago.

Frank Hartley, comedian and juggler, who recently closed an engagement of thirty-seven weeks at the New York Hippodrome is also on the program. His act is called "The High Explosive of Jugglery."

The above program and the feature picture, "Children of Night," featuring William Russell, will be presented at the regular Glendale theatre prices, with a bargain matinee at 2:30 tomorrow.

H. H. McCartney Will Take Vacation Trip

H. E. McCartney, jovial realtor, who is connected with the Edwards & Wildey company office here at 133 North Brand boulevard, has big vacation plans in store for his family. They will leave the first of the week for Bishop, Inyo county, from which place they will visit the wonderland of eastern central California by motorcar. For those who have seen the big trees, the mountains and lakes and enjoyed the refreshing clime to be found in Inyo and Mono counties, they can easily appreciate the expectation in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. McCartney.

Goat Goes on a Trip, But Not by U. S. Mail

"Somebody's got my goat!"

This was, probably, the thought in the mind of the large hollow horned Toggenburg yesterday as he was being crated up and getting ready for his 2000-mile jaunt to Texas.

The big buck, while being placed on the local American Express platform yesterday afternoon, attracted several hundred passersby who could not help but notice the queer looking arrangement. The animal was standing upright in a small lettuce crate with a can of water fixed in one corner and a bunch of alfalfa tied in another.

After gazing at the strange sight for a few moments a bystander offered the following suggestion:

"Why not put a stamp on his head and let him 'butt' his way through the mails to Texas?"

The address on the crate was to Dr. W. M. Lee Secor, Kerrisville, Texas.

Viola District Votes In Favor Annexation

Glendale has grown again over night, for yesterday the Viola avenue district voted in favor of annexation. The vote was 22 for and 3 against. The territory is west of Central above Stocker.

The polling place was located at the residence of E. F. Kulp, 1234 Viola avenue. On the election board were Glenn M. Ely, Mrs. Amy Campbell and Mrs. Daisy W. Kulp.

The result of the election was announced at the meeting of the city council last night.

Ex-Methodist Pastors Hold Quarterly Picnic

A number of Glendale former Methodist ministers and members of their families were present at Sycamore Grove on Tuesday of this week at the regular quarterly picnic and gathering of the Retired Methodist Ministerial association of Los Angeles county. About 100 men and women were present at the celebration, which was an all day affair.

The morning was spent in various speeches, musical numbers and a general good time. At noon the gay picnickers gathered around two long tables, where they enjoyed a real "old time picnic dinner."

In the afternoon the crowd was treated to an excellent program of addresses, one of the main ones being that given by Rev. S. F. Warner of this city. The subject of his talk, "The Function of a Retired Minister," was an exceptionally appropriate one for the occasion, and was received with applause.

Those from Glendale who were present at the pleasant event were Rev. S. B. Warner and wife, Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton, Rev. and Mrs. E. Hoskins, Mrs. A. Morrison, Mrs. A. B. Morrison and Mrs. E. N. Miles.

Insurance to Home Buyer Being Offered

W. N. Bott of 106A East Broadway is the Glendale representative of a novel idea in the selling of homes. The plan comprehends the monthly payment plan inclusive of interest and insurance, but further provides that should the purchaser die during the life of the contract the widow would receive the deed to the property without further payments on her part.

According to Mr. Bott the idea has been established in England for years and is proving very successful and will undoubtedly prove popular here as soon as the public realizes its tremendous significance. The home is placed in the possession of the buyer on the making of a small payment and in paying them he is not only providing himself with a home, but is protecting his family in case of fatal accident.

TALES OF ROMANCE, ADVENTURE AND DEEP MYSTERY

Varied Class of Books Are Released This Week at Local Public Library

Among the new books at the Glendale Public Library are some of special note to readers.

"The Black Velvet" by Richard Washburn Child presents a series of vivid flashes of romance and adventure picturing the life of the underworld as portrayed by one of the most popular American authors of today. The bits of love and crime are brightened by highlights of courage, the courage that is found equally strong in the blackest crime hole and the most open hillside.

"Casuals of the Sea" by William McFee, author of "Aliens," is a sincere picture of life on a dirty tramp steamship. The tale strips the glamour from the life of a seaman and shows it as it really is. It is, in the words of the Chicago Evening Post, "A great novel, by a great novelist and that is all there is to say."

"My South Sea Sweetheart" by Beatrice Grimshaw tells the tale of Hiliwa Dara Island. The heroine is married to Luke Ivory, her boy playmate, when she is only 12 years old, it being her father's idea that this will assure her protection through life. When she meets her wild sea lover her marriage stands between them. It is a story of vivid adventure depicted by one who knows the islands and the strain of excitement holds to the very end.

Characters in Pawn

"Pawned" by Frank L. Packard is a worthy successor to "The White Moll" and "Adventures of Jimmy Dale." Each character in the book finds himself pawned and can never act for himself, but only as the other dictates. The scene shifts from New York to the South Seas and back again. One gets a good picture of the lower east side of New York. Adventure, love and excitement carry the reader quickly through the entertaining narrative.

"The Unseen Ear" by Natalie Sumner Lincoln is a story of baffling mystery. There is bad blood between the two brothers, Robert and Jim Hale. Agatha, Robert's wife, is a goodhearted, foolish woman and Judith, her daughter, is deaf. A strange interloper is stabbed in the house and Judith is the only possible witness. Suspicion leaps from one to another. The unraveling of the mystery comes with a shock that gives the most hardened reader a thrill.

"The Bar-20 Three" by Clarence E. Mulford takes one out in the open air on a real ranch in the cattle country. It is full of happy cow-boy humor and Hopalong Cassidy, Red Connors and Johnny Nelson live through some thrilling adventures. They help to clean up a bad gambling hole and a pitched battle with the gamblers is the turning point in the narrative. It is a real story of the old time wild and woolly west.

Sax Rohmer has produced something decidedly unusual in his new novel, "Bat Wing." The death curse of the High Priest of Voodoo lurks over the characters in the story. There is a suggestion of Edgar Allen Poe in the gruesome deatils of the death of Col. Juan Menendez and the unraveling of the mystery by Paul Harley. A vivid love story is tangled in the mysteries of the eastern world making the story as a whole as fascinating as it is uncanny.

Mystery, Love, Adventure

Another story that raises mystery, love and adventure to the N'th power is "The Three Eyes" by Maurice LeBlanc. It takes the reader into the world of the unknown supernatural things and stirs any romanticism that might lie dormant within him.

Christopher Morley's "Tales from a Roll Top Desk" tells of Grub street from its grubbiest garret to its innocent sanctum. The exploits of a minor poet in unraveling the major mysteries of the dark world of books and authors is one of great charm and humor.

Many Local Elks Are Sore--on Feet and--Well, Elsewhere, too

It would be a sad tale, mates, if The Glendale Evening News would divulge the feeling which many members of the Elks lodge, No. 1289, have today after appearing in the parade yesterday noon.

For instance, Exalted Ruler Alfred Priest and his brother officers who rode the elephant, "Charley," must feel all upset—something similar to seasickness.

And while they are upset, there are others unable to "set up," to use the colloquialism.

They are the ones who rode the antlered mules and "Hoot" Gibson's bronchoes. Of course, to mention their names would make them the more sore—so what's the use.

They were a part of a splendid parade. Credit to them!

WILLIAM BLOCK IS BACK FROM VISIT THROUGH EAST

Glendale Man Says Business Is Getting Better; Call for Farm Labor Great

William Block, chief of the correspondence department of the Harrower Laboratories here, has returned from a trip in which he visited Chicago, Kansas City and Denver. In Chicago he gave the branch manager for the local institution a two weeks' vacation and in Kansas City he opened another branch office. He stayed six weeks in the stockyards city of the west. He later visited Dr. Harrower's office in Denver for a day.

On the economic situation in both Chicago and Kansas City Mr. Block gives some illuminative information. In the former metropolis there are thousands of men out of work, although business is picking up and a return to normal pre-war conditions is in sight. In Kansas City the difficulty seems to be in getting the unemployed "back on the farms" where there is an urgent call for help in the harvests.

Living on Savings

It is Mr. Block's opinion that many of the men now out of work are living on their savings and refuse to accept employment again on the farms in the hope that industries with their high wages will again find themselves essential. In this assumption he believes the workers are mistaken and it will be only a matter of time until they return to prewar pursuits.

While conditions are bad in the east, he does not consider them unsound and every effort is being made for an early return to normalcy. Needless to say, Mr. Block is glad to be back in prosperous Glendale.

ATHLETIC CONTESTS HELD BY TROOPS AT YOSEMITE

Members of Glendale's Own Participate In Sports During Encampment

By SALVADOR FELIX
Member of Glendale's Company at National Guard Camp, Held in Yosemite Valley

We are having a good deal of work now because every thing has to be fine, so after we settle down we won't have so much to do. When we work we work and when we play it is all play, and one enjoys a program that goes just so.

Today for our recreation hour our company had boxing and wrestling matches, the first company to have had any kind of athletics, which the other companies also enjoyed and entered some of their men in competitive bouts, after which came the eats.

Our company had a six-mile hike and then a nice swim in the plunge just above the camp. It is a nice place. We also have the river. The water comes from the falls and springs and is ice cold. It is really as cold as the water you get from any iced cooler.

Our fellows are enjoying this and they certainly wish Glendale had one.

Enjoy First Leave

Last night we had our first leave since we left Glendale so most of the fellows went to Camp Curry and Yosemite camp, where they have any kind of entertainment one cares to see—pool hall, dance halls, movie places and other things.

Camp Curry itself is a regular city and well supplied with every modern thing except a street car.

One of the finest kind of night works I have ever witnessed was pulled off last night. They built a very large fire on a high peak above the bank and then threw it overboard. It is some sight. It looks exactly like a comet—a sight not easily forgotten.

Results of Sports

Some of the boxing bouts were as follows:

Wade Freeman and Walter McManus had a little bout of two 2-minute rounds. It was a good bout. The decision was given to Freeman.

Andrew Nelson and Ray Sanders had a little bout. A regular Mutt and Jeff boxing. Weight of about 140, although Nelson had the reach and weight, Sanders put up a good fight.

A little wrestling match between Albert Bowman and Frank Owens. Bowman threw Owens in two minutes.

Burbank, Company I, was represented by Ben Kennedy and Frank Owens of Glendale, Fifth Separate company.

Kennedy 135, and Frank Owens 125 pounds. Kennedy having had much experience in the ring was too much for Owens although Owens had some wonderful punches, having had a wrestling match before.

Glendale Boy Wins

Levit, Company K of Hollywood then challenged Glendale to a wrestling bout, Glendale accepting and represented by Sherwood Ball, which was to be a finish match. The man had to be a 145-pounder and Ball was the man. It was a good match and a hard one, but Ball threw his challenger in less than three minutes.

Company G of Redondo was represented by Rick Shade in a 110-pound wrestling match, and Sidney Chambers of Glendale in a five minute wrestling bout. Chambers threw Shade in a little over two minutes.

We had a good bunch from the camp to see the bout.

Monte Vista Lodge to Have Formal Opening

The Monte Vista Lodge, at Sunland, California, which has just been furnished as a vacation home for undernourished convalescent and needy children will have its formal opening Saturday and Sunday, July 16 and 17, the visiting hours being from 1 to 7 o'clock.

As every one who visits the lodge is requested to bring one pound of something as a donation to the children, the "pound shower" is expected to help furnish the larder. Monte Vista Lodge is just half a block from the County Park, so visiting parties can bring their lunch and enjoy a picnic under the trees.

The best auto route to the lodge is via Verdugo Road through Glendale, thence west on La Crescenta boulevard to Sunland.

A boy sixteen years old, while swimming in the Niagara river, above Niagara Falls, was swept out into the current and over the falls. He saved himself by clinging to a drifting log which was whirled around in the outer eddy of the big whirlpool. Boy companions threw him the end of a rope and hauled him ashore.

Where the new Pacific highway crosses the Canadian border at Blaine, Washington, a gateway is being erected to commemorate one hundred years without fortifications or armies along the 3000 miles of international boundary. Inscribed over the doorways are the legends, "Open for 100 Years" and "May These Doors Never Be Closed."

An army airman flew across the Grand Canyon several times recently and also flew down into the gorge. He has been detailed by the war department to study the air currents in and over the canyon and to locate possible landing fields there. This is believed to be a preliminary to establishing a commercial airplane service in that vicinity.
